Letters to College Freshmen

Adriana Greiner

San Francisco State University

Make connections early on. Networking is essential for any career you are pursuing so make sure to talk and participate in your classes, bond with your peers, and connect with your professors. So many colleges offer opportunities to network and get to know people who share your major through clubs, classes, seminars, internships, and so much more. By immersing yourself in these activities you can learn so much about yourself, your interests and your career path. College is a learning experience so make the most of it!

Ashley Tosh

Colorado State University Pueblo

My advice is to embrace the change. So much is going to change in your life this coming year. Everything will be different. Don't resist this change. Enter your first year of college with wide open eyes and ears, and the courage to tackle whatever obstacles dare come your way. Understand that the year ahead might be the hardest year of your life thus far, but know the independence you will learn is irreplaceable. You'll emerge from your freshman year the most you you've ever been. You will feel lonely at times. You will struggle with your mental health. You will fail. This is inevitable. But getting involved on campus can be a game changer. Build a community in your life that will provide support after failures, and grow with this community, learn with this community, and embrace the change with this community. You got this!

Letters to High School Freshmen

Htet (Ted) Wint

Congratulations to the WHS Class of 2022! You have accomplished so much under unprecedented circumstances of a global pandemic, you and your family ought to be proud. All experiences and knowledge you have gained throughout it all will serve you well on your next journey. I remember being in your shoes, the last few months of senior year were nerve wracking with so much uncertainty ahead. This is normal. Embrace it. The memories you'll make with your friends are ones you'll cherish forever. Your four years at WHS will be your launchpad for whatever you pursue next. The biggest advice I can give to you — whether you're going off to college, taking a gap year or pursuing other opportunities — is to always find community. Navigating the next stage of your life will be so much more enjoyable if you have a support network alongside you. Don't isolate yourself in the new environment, be proactive and make community with others.

Uday Aulakh

To the incoming freshmen the next 4 years of your lives will be one of the most fun and stressful times in your lives. There are many things I wish I could tell my freshman self such as to try as many extra-curricular activities and participate in all the ASB events. Looking back on my 4 years as WHS I am happy that I participated in events such as spirit week and going to basketball senior night, it created memories with my friends that I will never forget. Yet while having all this fun I wish I could tell my freshman self to balance the fun and academics. Freshman year grades do indeed matter when you're applying to colleges and it is something that is often overlooked by new high school students. I also wish I could tell freshmen year me to think ahead and plan for the future as the more prepared you are the easier it will be on you. From the Class of 2022 good luck to the incoming freshmen the next 4 years will go fast and will be a blur, it all starts with your first day of freshman year then you blink and you're already graduating and starting your next chapter in life. Truly enjoy these 4 years :)

Lance Aves

Hey Freshmen! I would like to congratulate all of you for completing middle school, but trust me when I tell you that highschool will be ten times better! As a senior, there are always things you wish you knew beforehand that would have given you the upper edge. In this letter, I would like to share my knowledge in a "Washington for Dummies 101" format. First things first, WASHINGTON is the best school in the district! You can ask anyone in FUSD, and they will tell you that this is a true statement. We have the best spirit weeks, rallies, dances, and events in general. We have an extensive club list ranging from topics such as Dungeons and Dragons to Neuroscience as well as a plethora of focus groups. You will have the opportunity to sign up for clubs during Club Rush, so make sure to keep an eye out when that gets publicized! The best advice I would give you is not to take highschool for granted. Without realizing, you will be spending 4 years with future lifelong friends making memories that will last a lifetime. Enjoy the moment and you will be bleeding orange and black!

Jericho says “In ten years, I wanna be rich. I gonna make it happen.”

Mr McGrath responds to Jericho “You gonna be looking at your phone all the time laughs, somehow trying to monetize and make some money out from your phone laughs.”

Chef Vivian says, “Idk he’s probably to be a project manager.”

Brandon says, “I’m gonna be a millionaire. Put my feet up and relax.”

Chef Vivian responds, “You know in this day and age, a million is not a lot.”

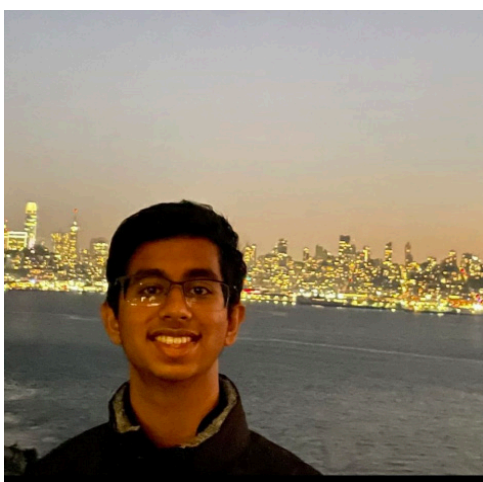

Brandon responds back, “I’m gonna be a multi-millionaire.”

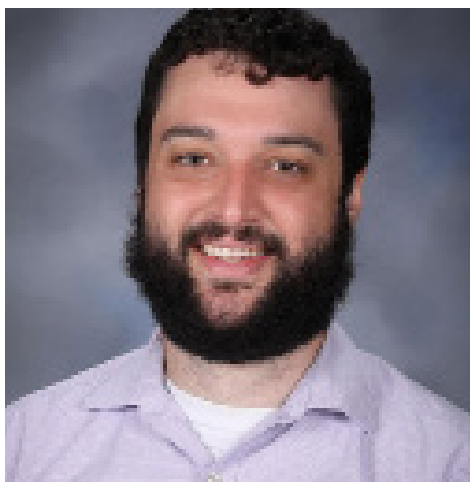

Mr. Sheth says “I see her working. I see her working at Facebook.”

Pranali says, “I see myself working at a interior design place or a firm.”

Ansh says “Hopefully in an apartment with a partner probably slaving away at my desk trying to work on my phd thesis”

Mr. Bortz says “In the next 10-15 years I definitely see Ansh manning a startup...second in command of a startup doing something good for the world while simultaneously making a boatload of money.”

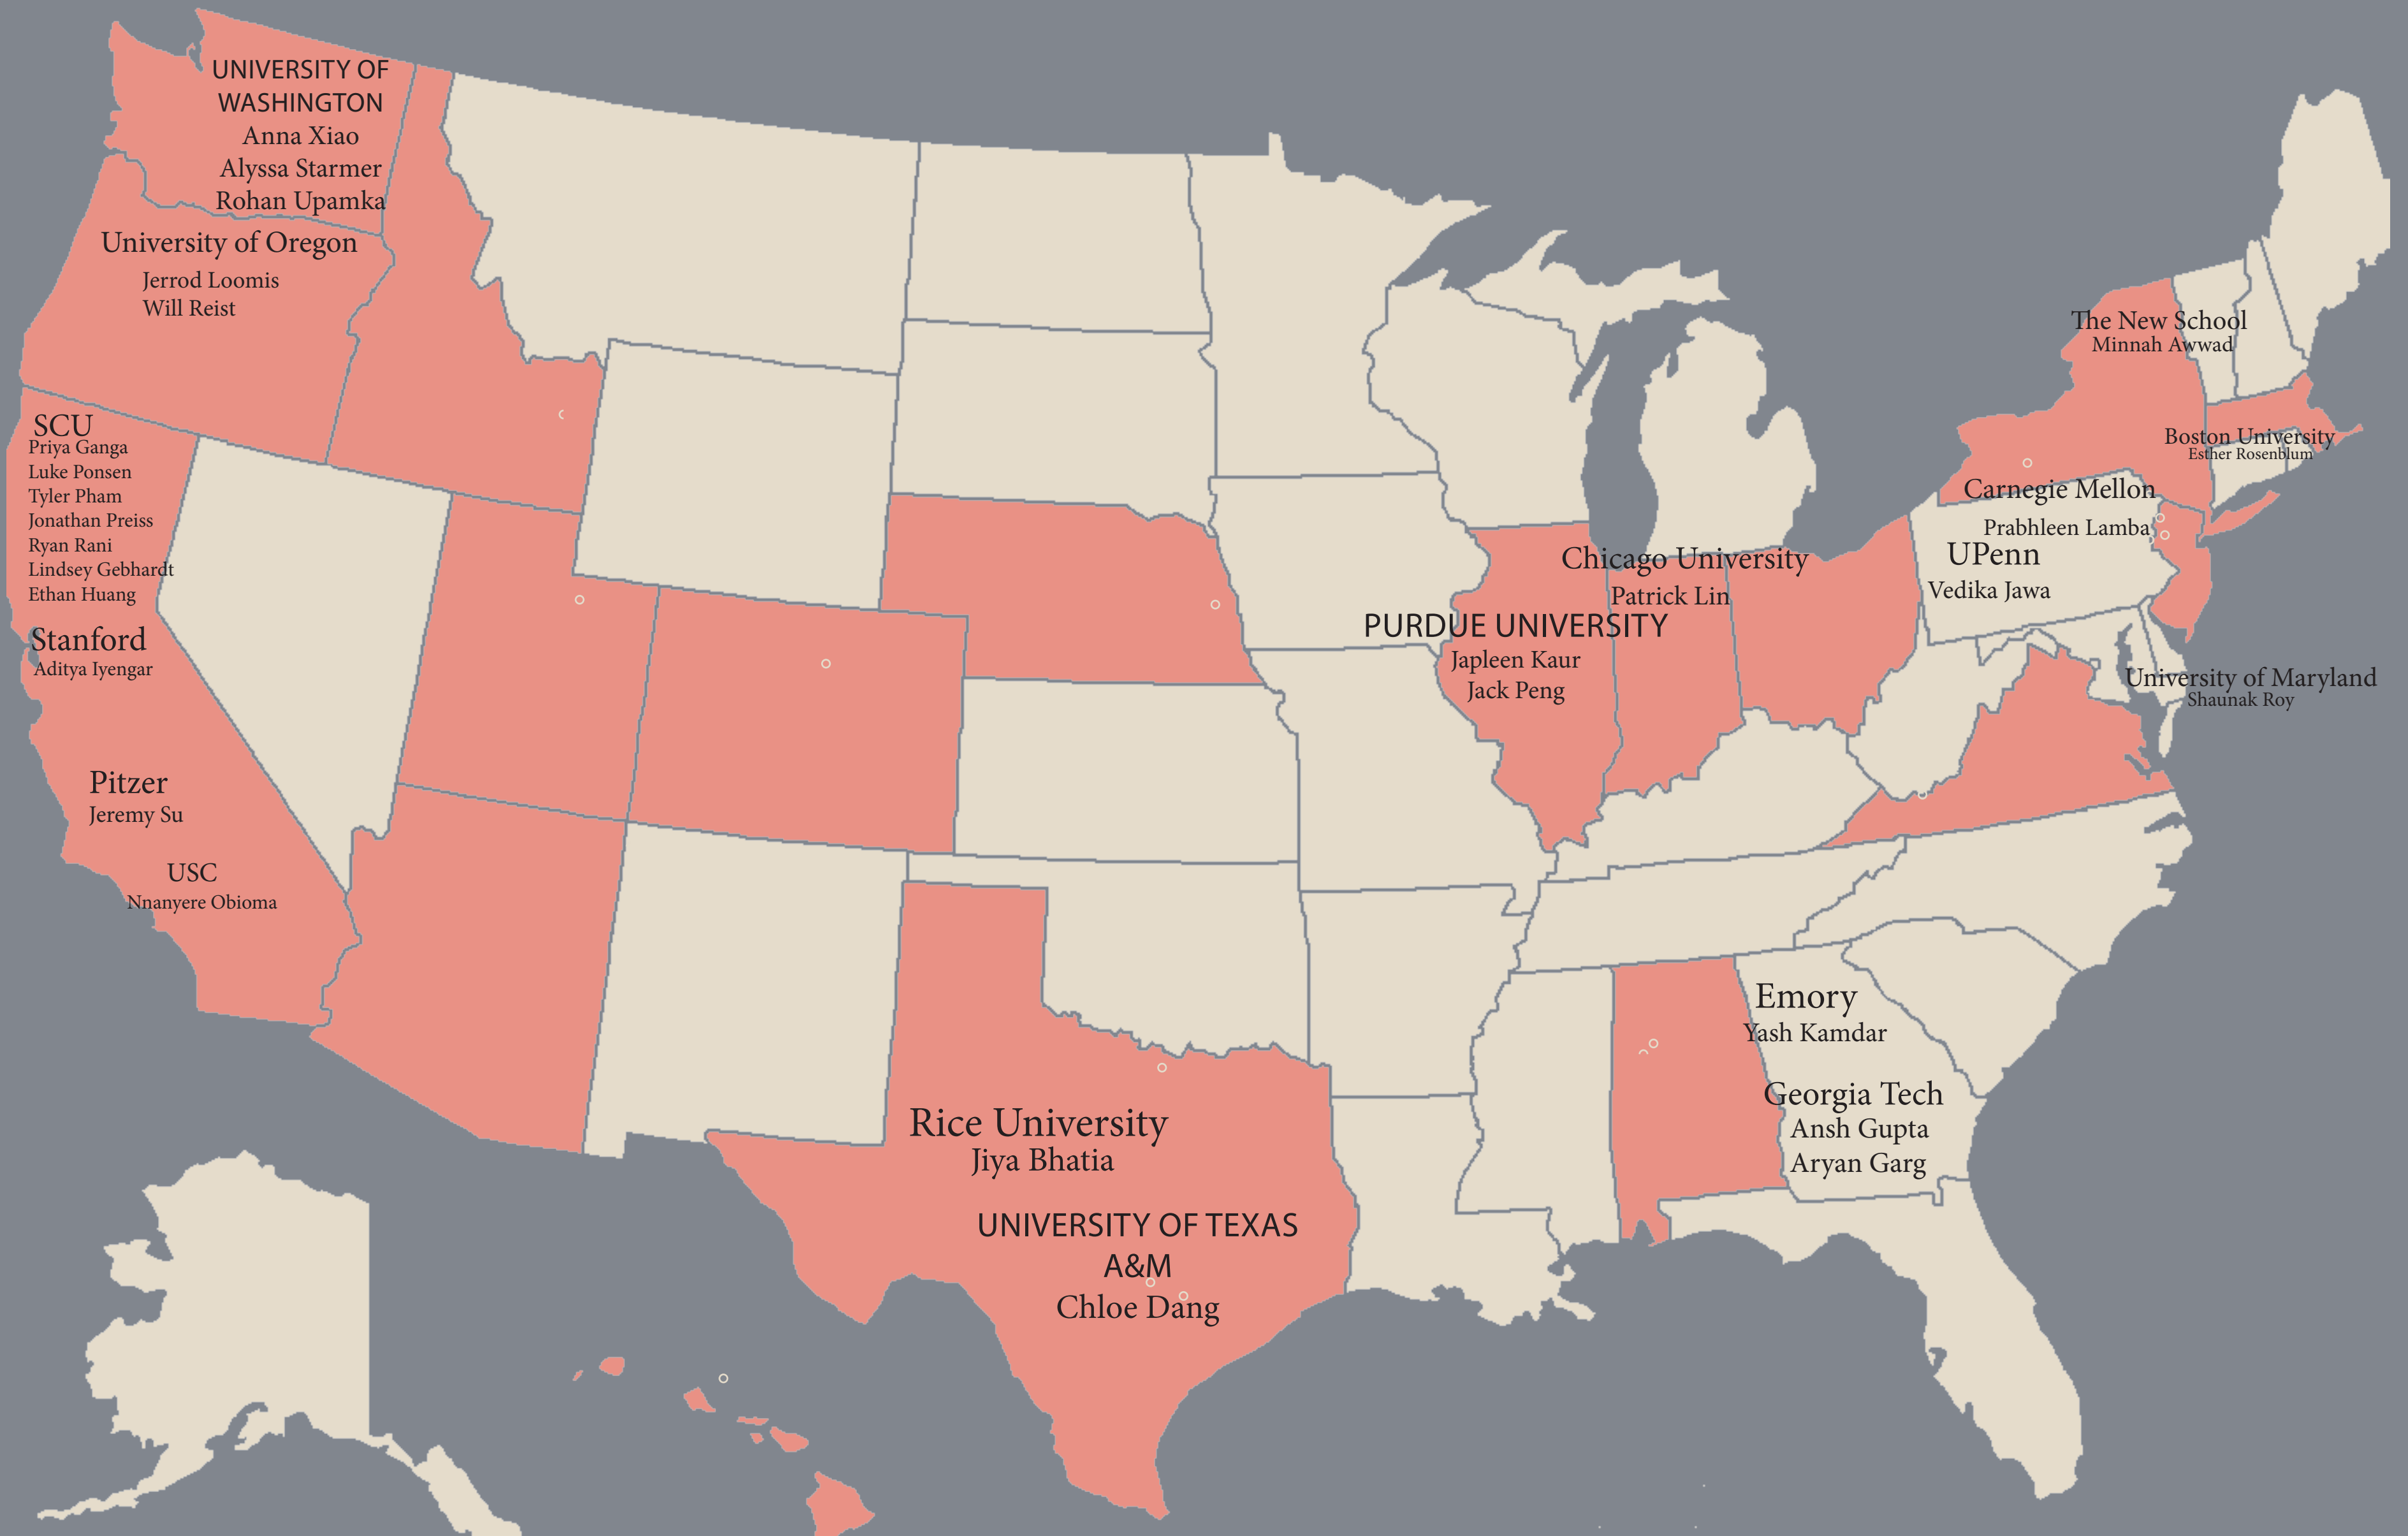

Avik says “I can’t be sure where I’ll be in 10 years. I want to be able to go to work or study, or really whatever is going on in my life and be happy with the what I do everyday. I hope I strike a good balance between enjoying my work and the time I spend with friends and family. I can’t really say I see myself doing a specific job, but I want to think that wherever I am, I’d be proud of the person I grew up into.

Mr. Block says “I see Avik in 10 years having recently completed grad school beginning a career that interests him a lot I get the sense that Avik is someone with a lot of intellectual curiosity and I know he’ll pick a field that will really interest him. I don’t know where he’ll live but I’m pretty confident he will have completed graduate school and begin a career he finds extremely rewarding that will be somewhat social and involve helping people in some way someone who is a connector and who has compassion for other people.”

STAFF GOODBYES

James Drage

Mr. Drage spent 19 years serving FUSD, teaching in the science department at Washington. To him, the best parts of being a teacher here were helping students learn science, to problem solve, to conduct labs, and prepare them for college later on. After retiring from teaching, Mr. Drage intends to spend more time with his family, and to rediscover some of his old hobbies.

David Stephenson

Mr. Stevenson has been teaching at Washington for the past 18 years, starting in 2004. He’s had many rich and fulfilling experiences over the course of those years, but his most enjoyable moments are in the classroom, getting to know his students. Mr. Stevenson loves to discuss history with his students, and to hear about their post-high school successes as college students. After leaving teaching, he plans to travel and engage in historical research and writing.

James Macleod

Despite his abrupt leave from teaching, Mr. Macleod was loved by his students and colleagues. Joline Edwards, one of his AP Economics students, says, “He was really efficient without being boring, and made time for students to catch up if they were behind. He was very kind as a person and easy to connect with.”

IN MEMORIAM

Marcelo Palmieri

“We didn’t speak much but when we did it was ALWAYS about family, children, life (and sometimes the obvious commute)”

- Lisa Burns

“Sr. Palmieri was a teacher who was loved by all of us. His kindness, humor, and care left a positive legacy on me and many others. I will never forget what he taught us not only about Spanish, but having compassion towards others”

- Eileen Nguyen

“Mr. Palmieri was so supportive towards everyone. He was a teacher that would always be there for you and help you out in any way possible. He would always make everyone laugh and make school easier with his positive vibes. He was overall just a great human being. I will forever be grateful for his support and kindness.”

-Ximena Canales Venegas

“I had him for 2 years and he was always incredibly passionate and helpful. He saw the potential in me that I didn’t even realize I had in the moment. He was also very goofy and good with all of the students in my classes.”

-Alyssa Starmmer

A beloved teacher of Spanish at Washington High School, Marcelo Palmieri, passed away on the 3rd of May, 2022. Being a teacher at Washington for 21 years, his impact on students and the campus was great, and his passing was a great shock for all students. Having loved teaching, his Spanish classes always appreciated his kind character and sense of humor. With his tragic passing, a whole is left in the heart of Washington High School and his students. To remember his impact, quotes of his students and fellow teachers

“Mr.Palmieri was one of the kindest and wholesome people that I have ever met in my entire life. The day before his passing I walked into his classroom to say hi, and when I was walking out he asked me if I was truly okay, and when I said no he said he wanted to be the first person to know when I was. I truly do miss him, and hope that he is up in the sky dancing with the other angels”

- Destiny

“Mr. Palmieri was a kind teacher who valued student health over grades”

- Anonymous

“Palmieri always had a few words to cheer me up and showed me some of the ropes when I arrived at Washington. He was a hard working guy, I would see him walking in from the train in the mornings, who was a dedicated family man. I miss our conversations, your love of life, and your robust sense of humor. Vaya con dios amigo, you will be missed and remembered”

- Joshua Hess

“Mr.Palmieri was such a good person and good teacher. He would light up a room. He was really kind and understanding”

POP CULTURE HIGHLIGHTS

Avengers Endgame

Avengers: Endgame was released at the end of April in 2019, before Covid-19 existed. After the 2018 release of Infinity War, many marvel fans were shocked and disappointed after the unexpected ending. Infinity War involved all of the avengers (most notably Iron Man, Hulk, and Thor) coming together in preventing Thanos from achieving all 6 infinity stones. The ending was up-setting, as Thanos not only ended up with all the stones but killed almost half of the universe as well. A year later Endgame was released, becoming a hot topic as it was the finale of the Avengers series. This movie was set up in a way to reflect on events from earlier movies, instead of creating a scene for something else to come up. Every aspect of Endgame had been foreshadowed in previous movies, giving fans a sense of clarity as the rising conflicts had finally come to an end. Since this movie was the actual ending of the series, it was also full of heartbreak and sad moments. For many fans this was a bittersweet experience as they felt closure after a long and very eventful adventure. Students talked about this around school for weeks as they shared their opinions on the epic ending of a superhero series.

Olivia Rodrigo's Sour

Sour was released by Olivia Rodrigo on May 21st, 2021. The title refers to the good things in Rodrigo's life "slowly going sour". Rodrigo stated that her album was inspired by the works of her favorite song-writers Alanis Morissette, Taylor Swift, and Kacey Musgraves. Her music mainly talked about heartache, adolescence, and failed romances. The vision for the album's lyrics was to explore the emotions that women are often shamed for like anger, jealousy and sadness. Some of the songs that were listened to the most were "good 4 u", "drivers license", and "deja vu". Various publications like Billboard and Rolling stone has placed the album as one of the best albums of 2021. At the 64th Annual Grammy Awards, Sour won the Best Pop Vocal Album and the song "drivers license" has won the best Pop Solo Performance. Sour also broke the global spotify record for biggest opening week for an album by a female artist

Among Us

In 2020, as the coronavirus began to spread worldwide and schools resorted to online learning, the hit mobile game 'among us' grew popular. Since there was more spare time being at home, it became a well known and enjoyable game for everyone. The point was to figure out who the imposter was with fellow crewmates. The imposter has the ability to kill crewmates but they have to be really good at pretending they are just a regular crewmate. Anyone can get voted off if they seem suspicious, allowing the crewmates to eliminate others, even if they aren't the imposter. Once the imposter is found, the crewmates win, but if the imposter isn't found, then they end up winning. This game is multiplayer and can have from 4-10 people in each round, which allows the chance to play with friends. Though everyone was struggling during the pandemic, this game brought joy and the chance for an escape from reality.

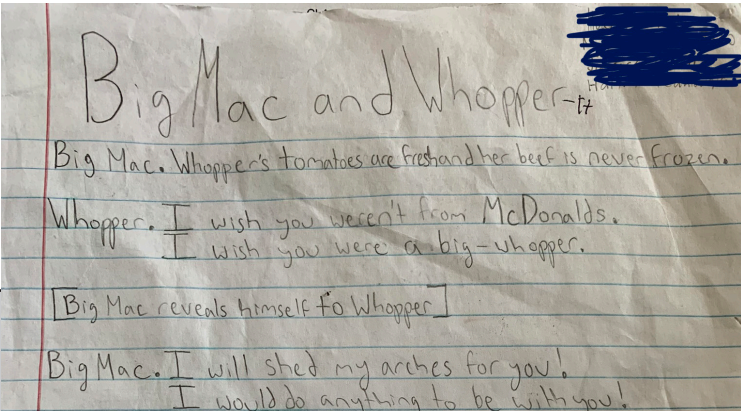

Squid Game

In Squid Game, 456 players who are in deep financial debt have a chance to win $38 million dollars by partaking in unique minigames. However, the players only progress if they beat these minigames. Those who don't are killed and cremated, never seen by these public ever again. Squid Game became Netflix's most-watched series. It was the top-viewed program in 94 countries and amassed 1.65 billion viewing hours during its first four weeks from launch. With the show being so popular, many people made remakes varying from real life to video games. Mr. Beast recreated the entire Squid Game set and brought in 456 of his subscribers to possibly win $456,000 (without the chance of dying of course). Squid Game was also remade in Roblox and has been visited 810 million times. The second season of Squid game will supposedly be produced and broadcasted by 2024

MEMORABLE MOMENTS

“One of my most memorable moments was going to the Senior Cruise. I had a wonderful time hanging out with my friends and enjoying a variety of entertainments!”
- Eileen Nguyen

“My most memorable moment was when me and some friends wrote a Romeo and Juliet parody called Big Mac and Whopper for Freshman year English. We performed it in front of the whole class and got extra credit.”
- Marissa Maldonado

“My most memorable moment was my cross country and track senior nights. It was so special to see the underclassmen work together and organize a special day for the seniors.”
- Ryan Rani

“My memorable moment was when I got out of my comfort zone and started socializing with other people even from classes and realizing that high school's actually fun.”
- Annicka Virrey
