Advice To Incoming College Freshmen

Avik Ghosh UC San Diego

“HELLO FUTURE FRESHIES!

Yeah, yall get to be called freshies again. It’s a pretty weird time of your life I’m guessing, but here’s just a few random tips that hopefully make your college experience less weird.

1) Don’t get blackout drunk.... it just sounds like a bad idea, and probably isn’t safe with people you barely know.

2) College is huge, so you will find people you click with, but only if you put in the effort to find them. You now have full choice over the people you meet with, something a bunch of us didn’t really have in high school. If you think you like D&D, then try out a few of those clubs! Partying? Maybe check out a frat or two during rush week. Sports, working out, to even sci-fi Cthulhu clubs have been found...

3) Please don’t be that guy who brags about all the difficult classes they’re taking. I say this from the bottom of my heart when I say no one cares, and people will actively avoid you. Complaining is always fine though because everyone has that one class they hate!

4) Dining hall food is great, but only for the first few weeks/ months, and only if you get lucky and go to a college with decent food. Learn to cook! And cooking isn’t just throwing instant noodles in the microwave - spice it up a bit! Buy some veggies and add it to your noodles. Maybe get a rice cooker and make some simple 1 pot rice dishes! The world of cooking is so much better than crappy instant noodles (but make sure you grab 5 or 10 because they’ve been some super handy dinners!)

4) One UCSD specific tip: We’re called the “socially dead” UC (we have some other fun nicknames though!), but that doesn’t mean you can’t find people you click with! That Cthulhu club does actually exist, and you’ll also find people who love to party, love to go clubbing downtown, and whatnot. Just find a group you click with, stick with them (or not!) and figure out what type of group you might enjoy being with!

Glhf and don’t die :)”

Ryan Mabunga Ohlone

“My advice for going to college is don’t be lazy y’all. I know from experience about skipping class a lot. The more you miss class in college, the more work will start to pile up. Sometimes assignments could be worth 30-40% of your grade. The more you miss the more you will scramble to catch up. Best of luck seniors and welcome to the real world.”

Divyam Sengar UC San Diego

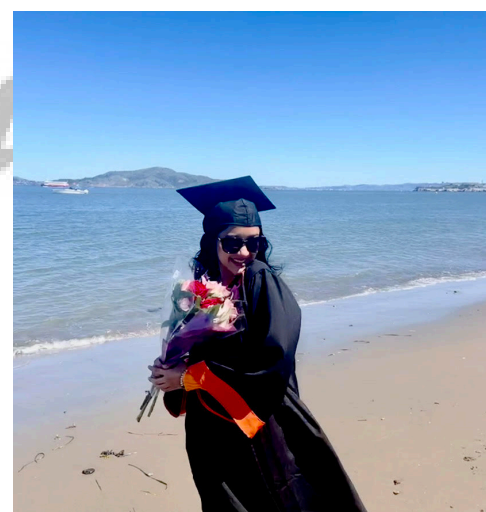

“Don’t be afraid to branch out and restructure your life. Your environment will change drastically, so it is natural for some change to surface in you as well. Just make sure that you are happy with whom you are becoming. Don’t stretch yourself too thin: make sure you leave yourself adequate time and peace to cope with your new life. It can be daunting to embrace and enact such change in one’s life, but it is inevitable so directing desirable change is best. Make sure to try new things: you never know what you will learn about yourself.

Just remember that your life is about to change: if you are not careful, you might realize that you are dancing to the whims of another puppetmaster.”

Prisha Mishra Letter from the Editor-In-Chief!

“Dear Reader,

First off thank you so much for reading the Hatchet and I hope you enjoy reading our senior edition! Our team of journalists have worked incredibly hard to create this special edition for the graduating class of 2023. Our theme this year in honor of the class of 2023 was the DNA kit, 23&me (pun intended). Although it doesn’t seem like it, our front cover page took a lot of time and effort to put together. After countless days of painting and trying to pull forty people out of class, we finally made it. I first joined Washington’s journalism community three years ago and I can say without a doubt that this was one of the best decisions I’ve made. From writing and interviewing people for articles to becoming editor-in-chief and creating videos with different students, I’ve had the opportunity to learn and enjoy my time as a journalist. As our year has ended, I want to thank you for supporting the Hatchet. We’ve come a long way, but we have so much more to experience and accomplish in our lives. I wish you all good luck!

Signing off,

Your favorite editor-in-chief
Prisha”

2 THINGS WE HATED

3 THINGS WE LOVED

3 things i loved: - all the activities i did - how cool some of the staff were - how easy the campus for school was 2 things i hated: - the amount of work - how some people made me Hated - Homework. Hated - Random really stupid Rules. (Special Mention: THE BATH-ROOMS) Loved- Friendships Loved - Freedom Loved - Opportunity for Fun	2 things I hated about high school were that there was an 8-3 schedule everyday and some certain rules. 3 things I loved about high school were talking to my friends at lunch everyday, DECA, and tennis
	Not enough baddies and so far from my house. The way the school looked, having tak, and some teachers	Loved - the support the school has provided, amount of friends that I have made, all the events that the school has hosted Hated - the work load and stress
	I didn't like when I get too much homework or when the classes get boring. * It doesn't mean I hate working. I loved: 1) talking to people 2) Bonfire, HOCO, Prom, etc. 3) lunch rallies	2 things I hated were homework and forced group activi-ties. 3 things I liked were some of the teachers, the free-dom, and the snacks.
	2 things I hated about highschool were the school lunch and the stress of finals. 3 things that I loved were my friends, school events, and the teachers.
	1- Chronic sleep deprivation 2- Bipolar teachers 1- Making/getting closer to my friends 2- Living in the moment 3- Highschool activities (Prom, HOCO, Multicultural)
	Hated: All the homework and tests that stressed me out The mental destruction	I hated the bathrooms and homework. I liked lunch lunch and lunch
	Likes: Talking to people Having actually fun classes Making friends	2 things i hated - getting out at 3:30 - how short lunch is com-pared to classes (it should be the same amount imo)
	Gossip and fights. I love my friends, some of the teachers and some of the counselors.	3 things i loved: - open campus lunch - chill teachers - cats in the parking lot
Hated: Teachers and Coaches. Loved: Friends, not being in class, best naps.		I hated all the speech's and work we had to do. I loved meeting new people, beginning nursing and all the laughs and men I've shared.
I liked my friends, memories, events. I hated the bathrooms, education system
2 things I hated were the essays and the Clever testing and 3 things I loved were basket-ball at Washington, Mr. Block, and Mr. Dimitriou.
