SENIORS TRYING TO WIN ANNUAL PAPER DRIVE THIS YEAR

LARGE AMOUNT OF PAPER
ALREADY GATHERED.
MORE TO COME

Two more days to go. The paper drive is almost ended. The seniors are leading the field up to this point. They are, however, closely pressed by the juniors.

If the classes keep up the pace they have set so far, it appears that they will "clean up." Already a large amount of paper has been brought in and much more is sure to come.

Who'll be the high man? For the past two years Irma Dutra has brought in the largest amount of papers. She was given a prize the first year for her good work.

Although the seniors and juniors are leading the race, the other classes are sure to be heard from. In the former drives, it was always the last minute rush that brought in much paper and really decided the winner.

Despite the fact that both Newark and Niles grammar schools have just lately had paper drives, the students are digging up paper from unknown sources.

So, although the seniors have the lead now, Chairman George Robinson says, but that it is the finish that counts.

(As we go to press we are informed that the freshmen are leading the paper drive by about one ton.)

Faculty Discuss Uniform Grades

The faculty met on Tuesday, September 24, after school to discuss various questions. Mr. Moore, as chairman of a committee in conjunction with Mr. Gravestock and Mr. Gould, reported on the new system of uniform marks for checking all written work. This report was adopted by the faculty. Copies will be posted in every classroom for the information of the students.

A general discussion of the new grading system resulted in the appointing of a committee to collect information on grading systems and to be presented in the form of a committee report.

A reception was planned for the board of Trustees and their wives. Mr. Meite was appointed general chairman.

Mr. Hodges discussed with the teachers the decisions of the principals of southern Alameda Elementary and High Schools regarding the minimum essentials in each subject, also the "New Type of Examinations."

W Club Announces Date of Initiation to be October 18

The "W" Club decided their date of initiation as October 18 in the meeting which they held on Thursday, October 4. The initiation of the new members will be in the evening, and they have a splendid program by Miss McMillan.

JUNIORS LEAD HONOR ROLL FOR FIRST MONTH

Hurrah! The juniors lead the Honor Roll the first month with three students.

Last year the seniors, who have now graduated, took the lead, and the present juniors came in second with seven students. It looks as if the juniors are up to date. No freshmen made the roll.

Although some of the students tried their best to get on the Honor Roll, they did not succeed on account of the high marking method.

The following are the members of the Honor Roll for this month:

SENIORS

Pauline Evullich.

JUNIORS

Arlene Oliveira, Lola Luna, Alice Sequeira.

SOPHOMORES

Lenora Neves, Tsutomu Tamigawa.

Freshmen Girls Have Very Enjoyable Time At Girls' Reception

On Friday, September 27, about 190 girls and 9 women teachers gathered in the Auditorium, for the purpose of honoring the freshmen.

At the beginning of the meeting the president, Marie White, welcomed the freshmen. She then announced that the girls would hear a few words from Miss Sandholdt, the dean of girls.

"Happiness is a state of mind resulting from the way you look on things. Don't wait around for others to make you happy," stated Miss Sandholdt.

The program was as follows:

1. A reading, "Between Two Lovers," by Mildred Durham.

2. Vocal solo by Lois Abbott—Piano accompaniment, Elizabeth Shinn.

3. The Girls League Code read by Lola Luna.

4. A short play to demonstrate the Code of the Girls League.

After each upper classmen girl had brought the refreshments to her little sister, the refreshments consisting of ice cream served with home-made cake, the yell leader, Patty Bliss, led the girls in a hearty cheer. The program then ended with a little dancing.

STATE CHAMPIONSHIP GOAL FOR BAND

State Champions! That is the goal for which Washington Union High School's band is striving. Every member of the band is working so that the band will progress rapidly. This year the band is bigger and better than ever.

Never before in the history of the school has Washington ever had such a fine collection of musicians.

In May, 1920, the band will go to San Francisco to represent the school in the State Band Contest. The winner of the contest then goes east to compete for the national title.

Under the capable leadership of Mr. Kimber, the band will have

UNUSUAL PROGRAM HELD BY STUDENTS IN ADVISORY PERIOD

TUESDAY AFTERNOON TOPICS
OPEN NEW OPPORTUNITY
TO W. U. H. PUPILS

No more will the students of W. U. H. have to ponder over their books on Tuesdays, sixth period. This period is to be used as an advisory period, which is something new in our school. At these meetings topics of interest are discussed in the different class rooms.

The purposes of these advisory periods, reports Mr. Hodges, are: First, to give the students a chance to talk with their adviser about class activities.

Second, to give the adviser a chance to help individual students with their individual problems.

Third, to give the students a fund of information about various items of civic and commercial concern.

A few of the advisers have had a chairman or president appointed by the members to conduct the program. The following are now holding office:

Mr. Hill: president, Eades Carol; vice-president, Jewell Amara; secretary, Valenta Brydges. Mr. Webb: chairman, Vivian Marshall.

Mr. Gravestock: chairman, Mildred Durham; secretary, Howard Blacow.

Mrs. Morris: chairman, Evan Orelli.

Mr. Moore: president, Rutherford Kettman; vice-president, Richard Lemos.

Several topics, which have already been discussed in these advisory periods are Fire Protection, Labor Day, Admission Day, Courtesy and Sportsmanship, and Columbus Day.

Topics to be discussed are the other holidays, safety first, health, the value of an education, thrift, conservation, and beautifying highways.

These advisory periods help the students in many ways. They often wish to discuss things that were brought up in their class meetings. Many of the students have wished vocational advice.

Others need help in choosing their courses of study. These difficulties can be overcome every Tuesday. There are a great many items of information that the student cannot get in his studies, and which are of valuable help. These items of information can also be obtained Tuesdays, sixth period.

a good chance of taking a prize. The band will be on the bleachers to play for all the important athletic contests. Mr. Kimber plans to have some marching stunts worked out and practiced for the Hayward game.

The band is not the only musical organization in the school, however. We have a very fine orchestra. Our orchestra will furnish music for many occasions during the coming term.

With Mr. Kimber directing the band and orchestra we can be assured of good music and a band that will have a good chance of winning in the State Band Contest.

BUDGET COMMITTEE MAKES FINNAL APPROPRIATIONS

The second meeting of the Budget Committee was held on September 26, in the administration office.

After a discussion of the amounts to be budgeted to the different accounts, it was decided to budget to the following:

Football	$85.00
Baseball and Track	140.00
Thanksgiving Dance	80.00
Girls' Athletics	35.00
Girls' League	30.00
Debating	15.00
Program	40.00
Scholarship Society	25.00

The treasurer, Howard Overacker, reports that by the looks of this account, it means that the students who have not paid their dues must get in and do so.

Thanksgiving Ball to be Held Nov 27th At Garden of Allah

Ray! The Thanksgiving Ball is going to be given at the Garden of Allah this year on November 27. The music will be furnished by Frank Lewis' peppy orchestra.

There was much discussion concerning the date of this dance, because of football games and other activities, but it was found that Wednesday the 27th would be preferable.

Some of the students did not approve of having a program dance, but after much discussion, it was decided that a formal affair should have programs.

Mr. Dusterberry Returns From Pleasant Vacation

W. U. H. S. students are again greeted with Mr. Dusterberry's cheery smile after his two week's vacation in El Dorado County, California.

It appears that Mr. Dusterberry was trying to get rich.

"We worked developing a spring," says he. "After doing a lot of blasting and shoveling we got a one and one half inch stream. We found traces of copper, mica, and struck the gold quartz.

"Many people," continues Mr. Dusterberry would jump at the thought of striking gold quartz and think they were rich, but we didn't."

Mr. Dusterberry's blasting experiences were at Farnsworth Ranch between Plymouth and Placerville County.

BROTHER LEO TO SPEAK AT ASSEMBLY

Students of W. U. H. S. are to hear Brother Leo November 1. Brother Leo is a professor of English at St. Mary's College.

The unusual thing about this is that outsiders are invited. This has been done to give everyone in this locality a chance to hear from a famous man who has ranked himself among the most famous orators on the coast.

Frank Pimintel, therefore, wishes all the students to tell their friends to come.

FORMER STUDENT OF W. U. H. S. SPEAKS BEFORE ASSEMBLY

INTERESTING TALK GIVEN ON SCHOOL ATHLETICS
BY JUDGE NORRIS

Judge Allan G. Norris, former student of W. U. H. S. and present Justice of the Peace of Washington Township, was the speaker before the Student Body last Wednesday.

Judge Norris spoke on Competitive Athletics, which have a place in the schools of the state. He said that everyone needs some sort of physical exercise in order to keep in good health.

"Members of most athletic teams have a great amount of mental training. They are taught the sense of co-ordination and co-operation. The very spirit of competition teaches one to go after the goal toward which they are aiming, and also teaches one to use every effort to reach that goal," Judge Norris said.

"Athletics must be regulated and participation should be modulated. They should be under strict supervision in order to make them successful."

A budget committee report was read by the secretary after she had read the minutes.

Yell leader, Milton Fournier, and his two assistants, Roscoe Farmer and Howard Blacow, were presented with their emblems by Frank Pimintel.

Miss McMillan awarded to Constance Reina, Mary George, and Madeline Avilla their circle "W's" for their awards in Physical Education.

The matter concerning school buckles was brought up and will be looked into by a committee to be appointed by the president.

James Logan announced that stickers advertising the Washington Union High School will be obtainable this year.

The presidents of the various classes were introduced. They are Eugene Dusterberry, Senior Class; George Coly, Junior Class; Billie Dick, Sophomore Class; and Elmer Grimmer, Freshmen Class. Each spoke a few words for their class.

The seniors challenged the rest of the school to a contest to see which class can "break their thermometer" on the bulletin board chart to show that they have all paid their Student Body dues.

Scholarships Society to Hold Initiation September 23 rd

The scholarship initiation will be on September 23. This was the topic of conversation of the Scholarship Meeting, held October 1 in room 3.

As there are few boy members of the Scholarship Society, one of the members said: "What about inviting a few boys to the initiation?" There was some discussion concerning it, but it was decided that no boy not a member of this society should come.

It was decided that clothing to the initiation.

Progress

Four hundred and ten years ago Magellan a Portuguese sailor, set out with his fleet of five vessels on a trip around the world.

It took a year and a half to complete his journey.

Two months ago the Graf-Zeppelin, captained by Dr. Hugo Eckener, started its epochal flight around the world. It took twenty-one days to complete this journey.

How different these flights were, and how many more conveniences this latter tour had than the former one.

The hardships Magellan were severe, while the Graf's passengers were merely on a joy ride.

Magellan started from Spain, down the South Atlantic, through Straits of Magellan, visited the South Pacific Island, proceeded to India, around the Cape of Good Hope, at the Southern tip of Africa, and back to Spain. On this long journey they encountered many terrific storms, and one of the ships was wrecked. But Magellan, invincible in spirit, calmed their troubles and evil thoughts. His saying was "eat the leather off the ship's yards" rather than turn back. By his fruitful efforts, he proved the world was round.

The Graf's task was not to prove the world was round, but to prove that Zeppelin airships need not fear any type of meteorological disturbances.

Its twenty venturesome passengers were always in high spirits. This was merely a thrilling adventure.

Magellan's men were entirely isolated from their little civilized country in Europe. The Graf's passengers were not. By modern inventions they communicated with their deeply concerned but enthusiastic pals on land.

Magellan's men had only the moon and stars to consult by night and the sun by day. There were men, some with bitter and cruel hearts, who had little consideration for their thoughtful captain.

It is, indeed impressive to realize that in the Graf's test the spirit of a woman was equal to the of man.

This zeppelin was, indeed, a castle with its modern luxuries, its scenery below, and its gay passengers

Magellan and Dr. Hugo Eckener will go down side by side. They will be renown by their deeds, and this Leviathan of the air will stand to prove the test it has undergone.

Men are not merely satisfied with a eagle of the heavens, but they will want to say as Magellan said, "eat the leather

CASTLES IN THE AIR

 HATCHET KNICKS ***

Question: What effect has the moon on the tide?

Answer: None - it effects only the untied.

Drawing from life is being emphasized in Miss Sayles's department. A few days ago one of the student drew the picture of a hen so lifelike, that when she threw it into the waste basket it laid there.

Mrs. Jackson: Is there anything you can do better than anyone else?
Student: Yes, I can read my own writing.

Faye H: Say, what is meant by beastly weather?

Laverne S: When it's raining cats and dogs.

"What kind of a lunch did you have at the zoo?"

"A very suitable one. I ordered a pony of brand, a pouasse cafe' and a hot dog."

"We had a wooden wedding at our house."

"How's that?"

"My sister married a blockhead."

"When all is said, the first ten commandments are the hardest."

Hans: "What do you mean by telling Dot I'm a fool?"

Harry: "I'm sorry, didn't know it was a secret."

"Is this the weather bureau?"

"Yes, sir."

"How about a shower tonight?"

"It's all right with me. Take it if you need it."

"Has your brother come home from college yet?"

"I guess so, or else the car's been stolen."

spirit is to improve modern luxury, to unite the world into closer and never friendship

The world today treasures the memory of the Hearst-Eckener globe flight and is interested in the growth of this type of lighter-than-air machines. We wonder what the future of this glorious air craft holds in store for us?

Once there was a man who owned a farm. This man wanted someone to cultivate it. He put an add in the paper.

A few days later a young man appeared; he told the farmer he had heard he wanted someone to cultivate his farm. The farmer talked with him for a few minutes; then he said: "I think you will do."

After the farmer had given the hired man a plow and a horse, he went with him out to the field. The farmer told the hired man that he should pick out one special object, and follow it all the time. He said this in order that the young man would make the furrows straight. After this was said the farmer left the hired man to do his work.

Towards evening, the farmer returned to the field to see how the hired man was getting along.

To his great surprise he saw the furrows all crooked.

"Didn't I tell you to pick out one special object and follow it," he asked the hired man.

"Yes you told me that," the hired man replied.

"Well why didn't you do it," the farmer asked.

"I did," was the hired man's reply. "I picked out that cow over there. It kept moving, so I followed it."

"How's your car running?"

"Not so good; can't get her drottled down."

"How's your wife?"

"She's the same, thank you."

GREAT DUTY DONE TO W. U. H. S. BY SILVA'S INC.

"Well, for Heaven's sake! Look at this," cried Olive, as she stumbled upon an old spinning wheel. "This was probably used by Betsy Ross. Don't you think so?"

"That's nothing," said Elsie. "Heres something better—Buffalo Bill's old gun. You know that one he used on the prairies, and with which he killed so many Indians?" "Who in the world was he?" asked Olive.

"Silly, use your common sense. He was one of the most noted of America's scouts."

The two girls were up in the attic rummaging over old stuff. A pretty sight it was to see them, full of spider webs, with dust-stained faces, but in happy spirits.

"And just think—this is all for the school museum."

"Have you seen the swell things they have in the case?" interrupted Olive.

"Do you think this would be good?" said Elsie who still hoped to find more things.

"They have Indian relics, petrified wood, and just think, the key to the first house built in Centerville," continued Olive, in spite of Elsie's inattentiveness.

"You see the first house—?" absently returned Elsie as she cocked and pulled the trigger of an old four-barrelled derringer she had rescued from a dark corner.

"Where? In the trunk?"

"I said a key to the first house built in Centerville," repeated Olive impatiently. "Don't blow off your head with that gun."

"Oh! The key, I wonder who brought it?"

"Why, I can tell you that," said Olive, beginning to look for more things. "—Oh! if this isn't a kick!"

"A pick!" rejoined Elsie. "Do you suppose grandfather used it in the gold mines?"

Olive was brushing the dust from an old flint-lock she had discovered.

"I said a kick not a pick!"

"Oh! a pick!" Elsie hurried over to inspect the find.

"Don't worry old girl. It takes the Silva's Inc. to do a thing," she exclaimed, all in a flutter over their discoveries.

"Land sakes! This must be the flintlock of Captain Miles Stand-

WHAT TO DO
CORRECT SOCIAL USAGE FOR HIGH SCHOOL BOYS AND GIRLS

What do you think of the way girls powder in public places?

All caring for face, hair, and nails should be done in privacy. The best way is to forget about yourself!

OUR Library

Many books in the library tell about our foreign neighbors and how they live. Of course these are interesting as well as educational. One of these new books is: "Little Journeys to Italy, Spain, Portugal" by Whitecomb and George. This gives interesting accounts of their lives and customs of these peoples. Others are "Czechoslovakia" by Scott, which is briefly and simply written, and "The Spell of China," by Bell. There are excellent photographic and word pictures in this book. You will enjoy "The Spell of the Caribbean Islands" by Bell very much. "Belgium Life in Town and Country," by Bougler tells of the two races of Belgium and about the modern society and commerce there.

Of course we all enjoy novels as well as history and biographies. "The Helmet of Navarre" by Runkle is a novel of the early French historical times. "Caravan," the stories and tales of John Galsworthy, contains thirty-six short stories arranged by the author. There are thirteen stories in "The Odd Number" by Guy de Maupassant. There are romance and thrills in "The Lady or the Tiger and Other Stories" by Stockton.

"Famous Scouts" by Johnston includes stories of the trappers, pioneers, and soldiers of the frontier.

"Little Plays from Greek Myths" by Oller and Dawley are very fascinating.

"On Writing Essays" by Padlock and Taintor and "The Fundamentals of Music" by Gherkens are sure to help you to make your school work interesting and entertaining.

STUDENT OPINION

Dear Editor:

"Jack! For goodness sake, get up and go to school. Don't you know that the bus will be here in a few minutes?"

This was Mrs. Brown who was calling to her son, Ed, for the fourth time that morning.

"Ah gee," cried Jack very sleepily, "I don't see why I have to go to school all the time when it's the same old grind all day long."

"Well, it wouldn't be the same old grind, if you would only shake up some enthusiasm and interest in your work," replied his mother.

But Mrs. Brown finally did get Jack to school. He immediately started to converse with his friends, instead of doing some of his unfinished work.

"Say, have you heard the news?" said Jack. "The Thanksgiving dance is going to be on Thanksgiving night. Isn't that the dumbest thing? They are always doing something silly."

"Shucks, that isn't anything. The seniors will probably have a pictorial this year. They are always trying to be different and yet never succeed," replied "Chuck."

Students, this is just an illustration of what we are continually hearing around the campus. Such people are considered "knockers." They always have criticisms on everything that is done, but never a suggestion to offer in bettering the situation.

Let's get together, and work toward the welfare of our school, instead of trying to knock every thing that is attempted.

ish," burst forth Olive.

"Oh! and here's the pen John Hancock used to sign the Declaration of Independence," cried Elsie trying to keep up with Olive's energetic discoveries.

"Ugh! look at this spider web on my nose. Take it out!" exploded Olive, almost reaching the point of having hysterics.

"Look! Here's the bandage Huckleberry Finn used on his big toe when he fell on the briar patch."

"Here is the whip Simon Legree used to whip poor old Uncle Tom."

"I just wish I could use this on Simon 'Rats' now. I'd show him what Olive Silva could do."

"I'd use something better," interrupted Elsie.

"What?"

"A rolling pin!"

CLUBS

Twenty-six students of the Basketball club met sixth period, Wednesday, September 25. The officers elected are as follows: president, Vernie Martin; vice president, Irma Clark; secretary, Emilie Oliveira; reporter, Susie Rose. The club members have started making flower baskets.

The Commercial Club also had more members this last meeting. Elinora Silveira was elected secretary. During the period Mr. Solvason gave a talk on his trip to Canada this summer. Next meeting the club is going to take a trip to the salt works.

The Dramatic Club had several new members. Each new member had to give a pantomime. The other members had to give a reading. Each one has to bring three plays for the next meeting.

The Art Club has started some work on leather tooling. They are working on tags with monograms for suit cases. After these are completed, they will make key cases and bill folds.

Sixteen students of the Science Club met with Mr. Gould and Mr. Webb. The students are going to collect and mount birds, bird eggs, leaves, insects, and animals. They are also going to pickle fruits.

Our high school has a challenge from Sequoia High for a debate. Due to so few members in our Debating Club our school is undecided about accepting this challenge. All are invited to join this club.

The Aeronautics Club elected officers during club period Wednesday. They are as follows: president, Louie Duarte; vice-president, Ramon Barrom; sec-treasurer, William Bowie; and business manager, Hubert Jacinto. In the future the club is intending to build models.

Since there aren't enough students interested in a latin or a mathematic Club, no clubs of these kinds were organized.

When everything was put in its right place, and the girls had carefully packed up their loved treasures, they went down to wash up.

"Doesn't it feel soothing to have done something for our school?" said Elsie.

"Oh, shut up! You made me get soap in my eye. Who wouldn't be pleased to have our school progress, I'd just love to hear what Mr. Hodges will say."

"Yes—and if everyone collects like this, won't our social sciences museum grow?"

WASHINGTON "BEES" DEFEAT HAYWARD "BEES"

Winning the first game of the football season played on our home grounds, the second team defeated Hayward second team 15 to 0. The boys scored two touchdowns, converting after the second, and then made a safety.

The second team showed plenty of power on all its plays. The whole team was full of "pepper." They rushed the boys from Hayward off their feet. From the time that the whistle blew until the final gun was fired, the boys were fighting.

The line opened such large holes for the backfield men that a steamship could have been run through. The men in the backfield hit the line hard and went through for big gains on nearly every play.

Some of the short passes that were thrown resulted in substantial gains for the Washington gridsters. Penalties were made conspicuous by their absence. Both sides played a clean, hard, fighting game. This kind of playing results in very few penalties.

Clarence Soito played a fine game. He hit the line hard and low for long gains. Rodrigues also made many good games. Raymond Crane showed the boys what speed was when he ran around the end.

Both teams played hard and clean, and the game was well worth the watching. The boys from Hayward, although beaten, were not disgraced; they played a good game.

Washington vs. Piedmont Friday

Our first league football game will be played at Piedmont, Friday. Last year, due to the "flu" epidemic, the boys could not play them.

Piedmont has a very heavy and fast team. They are expected to be the leading team in the A. C. A. L. Captain Jack Cahill says the boys will have to fight.

Coach Regli Talks to Girls on Football

No longer will the girls of W. U. H. S. break into mighty cheers as a member of some opposing football crosses Washington's goal line to make a touchdown.

Nor will these young women any longer hold the illusion that a "touchback" has anything to do with tag.

The reason that the girls have suddenly acquired a full "football sense" is that Coach Regli recent-

VARSITY SHOWS GOOD PLAY AGAINST OAKLAND

On Friday, September 27, our football team went to Oakland where they were defeated 20 to 6 by Oakland High.

The first touchdown came in the first six minutes of play on a series of line bucks and passes. They failed to convert—score, 6 to 0.

In the second quarter our team out played Oakland, keeping the ball in their territory throughout the whole period. With about five minutes of play left in the first half, Washington started a march down the field which took the ball to Oakland's two-yard line where the march was stopped when our team was penalized five yards. A few seconds later the half ended.

The second half started with Washington kicking off. Oakland then started a march down the field to the four-yard line where they were stopped cold, but the good work was spoiled when Cahill's punt was blocked and recovered by Oakland over the goal line. They converted, making the score 13 to 0.

Once more in the fourth quarter, on a long run by their captain, Oakland carried the ball across Washington's goal line. They converted making the score 20 to 0. They kicked off and five minutes later the game ended with the ball in midfield.

The starting lineup was as follows:

- L. E.—S. Lawlor.
- L. G.—H. Overacker
- L. T.—L. Silva.
- C.—M. Brown
- R. G.—R. Secada
- R. T.—R. Ferry
- R. E.—M. Fontes
- Q.—E. Dusterberry
- R. H.—C. Pine
- L. H.—J. Cahill
- F.—F. Mattos

ly spoke to the girls P. E. classes on how to play football.

The reason for giving the talk Coach Regli has explained was that many of the girls, particularly the freshmen, knew very little about the game.

Phil Phitt says

RECREATION IS AS IMPORTANT AS FOOD AND CLOTHING

SPORT-O-TORIAL

When the Washington High B team went out against the Hayward players, they went to conquer. They pushed on thru the Hayward line with a will that could not be stopped. Hayward tried to check them, but all to no avail. They fell, but only to struggle to their feet and press steadily forward. Hayward had to acknowledge defeat.

Like the French at Verdun our men cried, "They shall not pass!"

Although this was their first encounter our players did well. The first team should take a few pointers from them considering they will play Hayward soon. We have just begun, fellows; the hardest part is yet to come. Let us see if you can not keep up the good work. Get together and practice hard for the on-coming game.

Many students are looking forward to the game with the Hayward first team. We must win this year, fellows, for it always has been the biggest event of the football season. So let's get ready for it.

KICK-OFFS

Did you know that in the Hollister game the referee had to warn little "Ballie" Pine against playing too rough?

We wonder why the football men have a habit of practicing so near the girls tennis courts?

Did anyone notice how many yards George Coley made in the Hayward game when someone in the stands called him "Cornbread?"

Captain "Pat" Cahill, acting as head linesman in the second team game with Hayward, showed us what the ideal official should do.

"Scotchman" Mattos is certainly tight. Ask anybody that plays against him on the line. He won't give an inch.

Things Coach Regli bears every day—I can't open my locker. I left my gym suit home. Gee! I got a cold, I can't go out to-day. I sprained my ankle, I can't run.

Clarence Soito is nearly broken-hearted because he couldn't make more than 10 yards at a time in the Hayward game.

The favorite pastime of the football teams is running around the track. Oh, how they love it!

Lucky fellows these husky football men. Notice how the fickle girls are rushing them.

It has been suggested that we take up a collection and buy Coach Regli a new gun. At the end of the game it always takes at least six attempts to make this cannon respond.

Did you see that wonderful kick-off made by "Bizzari" Bernard in the Hayward game? It was competely hidden by a smoke screen. The ball went 10 yards hidden in a cloud of dust.
