MISS NICELY GETS RESULTS

Kimber's Orchestra Furnishes Music for Evening; Large Crowd Greet Efforts of Cast

"You can come in, but you can't get out!"

This was one of the many lines that brought peals of laughter from the audience Friday evening, January 24, as "Full House" directed by Miss Nicely was presented in the school auditorium.

The above scene was enacted when three policemen were ordered to search the house of Mrs. Fleming, Lola Luna, for a burglar. Clarence Lucas the dignified little policeman, had his orders to let everyone in but no one out.

Irene Cieslak is Typical Aunt

The scene represented a drawing room with a large winding staircase at one end.

Irene Cieslak, in the role of Miss Winnacker, the dignified aunt, gave a splendid portrayal of this character.

Advisory Group to Hear Radio Reports

The faculty held its meeting on January 21.

It was decided that a representative from each advisory group listen to the radio on Mondays and report back to his group the information obtained.

There was much discussion about the next advisory bulletin on Objectives of Secondary Education in general and subjects in particular.

Educational Objectives Chosen as Advisory Topics.

Some of the objectives, Mr. Hodges has stated, are health, development of tool subjects, such as English, Mathematics etc., worthy home membership, proper use of leisure time, useful members of community, vocational training, development of world peace, and moral and ethical development.

Seed Planted for Our Gym as Ground Sample is Taken

The gymnasium ground was surveyed last week for the purpose of obtaining an accurate knowledge of the ground for the architect. There is no sand near the top which proves that there is good footing for the foundation. Holes were dug on the four corners where the gym will stand to get an accurate sample.

The gym will be 18,000 feet square.

Lack of State Funds Balks Centerville Junior College

A recent appeal for a Junior College in Los Angeles has revealed the fact that there can be no Junior College anywhere. Colleges of this sort face a deficit of more than $300,000 for the current school year.

It was the desire of many of Washington High to have a Junior College in this vicinity, but these recent investigations have proved that it will be impossible.

Ten other places are on the waiting list for a Junior College.

These facts indicating that no more Junior colleges can be established at present are revealed in an editorial in the Oakland Tribune of January 20.

Faculty Party is Enjoyed

Mr. Webb is Chairman of Entire Evening; Township Teachers are Honored --- Bridge, Whist Played

Did anyone notice the big "grins" on all the teachers' faces last Thursday morning? If anyone did, it really wasn't an unnatural thing for they were still overflowing with joy from the previous evening.

The W. U. H. S. faculty was hostess to all the teachers in the township at a party given at the high school on Wednesday 22.

Mr. Webb was in full charge of the entertainment for the evening, and according to the teachers, there is no doubt but that it was splendid.

The greater part of the evening was spent in playing bridge and whist. Mr. E. M. Moore, a member of the high school faculty, had the honor of winning first prize at bridge, and Miss (Continued on page 4)

History Classes Work Hard on Cartoons, Diaries and Costumes

The social science department under combined effort is working on cartoons, diaries, and historical manuscripts.

Mr. Gravestock has some very excellent cartoons and diaries on display in his room. The students have been studying Queen Elizabeth of England, and have been so impressed that they have made some fine cartoons and diaries. The diaries are supposed to have been written by famous people of 300 years ago.

The best pieces of this work on are on display in room 103.

Miss Roberts, Miss Knoles, and Miss Taylor are also having their classes work on similar projects. Miss Roberts is going to have her students dress up dolls to illustrate the different costumes which have been worn in the past centuries.

Other topics assigned students include a chronological survey of events from the time of Columbus to the present. Towards the close of the semester the work will be put on exhibit in the magazine rack which is out in the hall upstairs.

Annual Operetta Has Big Start As Sixty-Six Students Try Out; Cast to be Selected in Short Time

"PURPLE TOWERS" PICKED

Play to be Given on April 25 Says Director; Great interest Shown as Art Class Makes Posters

This year's operetta is getting a big start with 66 students trying out for it.

The name of the operetta which is to be given, is the "Purple Towers." This operetta is a two act musical comedy written by Don C. Wilson. It is directed by Miss Sayles the instructor in vocal music. She said that the students are very interested in the operetta, which is a step toward success.

The cast is not picked out yet but it will be in a short time. The date chosen for the operetta is April 25. The art class is at present drawing many posters for the Purple Towers to advertise it as far and wide as possible.

Lincoln Contest Ends Today

The Lincoln Essay Contest which closes today is to be the last of its kind. The Lincoln medal was donated by the Illinois Watch Company. This is the last time that such a medal will be awarded to the winner.

This contest is open to seniors only. They may choose any phase of Lincoln's life from which to write, but the manuscript must not exceed one thousand words.

Gold Medal Given Winner of Underwood Type Meet

A recent appeal for a Junior Company were won by the typing students of W. U. H. S. last week. In the typing class, by Mrs. Jackson two students were awarded with medals and one with a certificate.

The first one was Bernice Boyd who was awarded with a gold medal. Florence Bewick was the other student who also was awarded with a bronze medal. Helen Baird a first year typing student was given a typing certificate.

Business Conduct is Topic

Edward George Gives Rules for Success in Business; Laziness is Cause of Failure—Education Needed

"There are eight factors necessary to be successful in the business world," said Edward George an alumnus of W. U. H. S. in his talk entitled "The Philosophy of Business." Some of these are: making a living, profitable use of leisure time, the art of thinking, the art of expression, correct behavior before men, and good character.

Some obstacles which may hinder all who enter into the business world are: stupidity, other interests, frivolity, fright and laziness. This last word is the greatest liability. Eighty per cent of the failures in the business world are due to laziness.

Neatness in Looks Necessary for Success

"Pride in appearance means a great deal in business life, as the man who employs you can only tell by your appearance whether you are capable to fill a certain position," said Mr. George. "Success or failure generally comes from mental attitude rather than mental capacity," said Mr. George in conclusion.

Miss Newbert, attending her last Student Body meeting, spoke a few words of regret at leaving Washington.

Mr. Wood, a new faculty member, was called upon for a few words.

Mr. Hodges expressed his regret at seeing Miss Newbert leave. He wished her much joy in her future vocation. He also greeted Mr. Wood as a new member of the faculty.

The orchestra playing under the direction of Mr. Kimber opened the meeting by playing a selection from Schubert's Opera, and the Hungarian Dance Number Five.

Ralph Kress and John Illia to Accompany All-American Football Star; All Start Training Next March

Larry Bettencourt, the famous All-American football player, will speak before the students of Washington High on February 7. With him will be two other football boys who will also speak.

Larry Bettencourt, a former graduate of this school, has played for the St. Louis Browns and for Clarence Saunders' Tigers Football Team. He has just returned from a 10-months trip to the East.

Trio to Talk on Sports and Trips

He played baseball for the St. Louis Browns, and after the season was over, joined Clarence Saunders' football team. In the latter he played and coached.

His two companions are Ralph Kress, short stop for St. Louis team, and John Illia, Larry's St. Mary's colleague. The topics of conversation will be on sports and travels.

Scholarship Society Work on Convention

The Scholarship society held a snappy meeting on Wednesday, January 15, 1929.

The main discussion was concerning the scholarship convention which is to be held at Washington Union High School on the first week of March.

Mr. Solvason gave a great deal of information about different conventions held last year. He particularly talked about the Fresno Convention which he attended.

Committee Named to Handle Correspondence, Program.

President Mary Lucas later named Mildred Durham as the program chairman, and Marie White as the chairman of the correspondence for the convention which is to be held here.

There were other discussions concerning refreshments and programs, but no definite action was taken toward them.

CITIZENS OF THE WORLD

At first a man's home, within which were comradeship, peace, law, and order, was limited to his own family group which was banded together for defence and assistance. Outside of this group no understandings were possible.

But men found it to their advantage to band together in groups of families, in clans, and finally in nations.

This is the stage which civilization has reached today, when domestic tranquillity means keeping the peace within the nation, while disputes outside nations are still settled by combat.

But the interests of our nation are no longer separated from those of other nations. It used to be said that the United States was unconcerned with European affairs. The increased ease and speed of communication, however, bringing a network of commercial ties with all the rest of the globe, makes it impossible for us to live to ourselves alone. We are no longer simply members of a family, nor citizens of Virginia nor of California, not even just citizens of the United States. We must feel ourselves to be citizens of the world.

Manuel Brown

"STOP KICKING MY DOG"

"Be kind to animals!"
"Shoot me with a camera!"
"Let me be your friend!"

What's this? Why, don't you know, the Art class are making posters for the Humane Society contest?

The Art class won three prizes of merit last year, and they're out this for all the honors they can get, and for first prize too.

Once again the Latham foundation for prevention of cruelty to animals is contributing its opportunities to the schools of Alameda County.

Contests of this sort are beneficial to school life. They tend to make us understand and how to prevent the cruelties of this world toward animals.

Here is certainly an opportunity for the art class.

JUST A SERIOUS THOUGHT

The first semester has passed, and now we have entered into the second semester. The minds of the students should be as fresh as the semester, that they may be able to work harder from now on.

After gazing at the list of Scholarship Society members, I notice that there is a great decrease in the enrollment.

The students might ask, "How can we join the Scholarship Society when the teachers are getting stricter and the marks are getting higher and higher?"

The question is: does he really want to join the Society or is he just lazy? Have you ever heard of the proverb, "I wish, I can, and I will?" If a student wishes a thing, and thinks he can do it, he can do it, that is, if he wants it badly enough. But your heart and mind must be in the work that you are accomplishing.

T. S.

LOOK PLEASANT, PLEASE

Take a few pictures, wont'cha, and put them in the pictorial. Gee! wouldn't it be lovely to fill up the snapshot pages with lots of funny things? Don't forget that one dollar prize for the best snapshot, too.

BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE

 Hatchet Knicks ***

Hard To Indentify Now

When a school boy walks with a limp, it is hard to tell whether he is an injured football star or just a rumble seat rider.

Who it was who first said, "Great minds run in the same channels" must have been studying the wedding presents.

Mrs. Gray: "Ah, Jenny, I wonder if my husband will love me when my hair is gray."

Mrs. Block: "Why not. He's loved you through three shades already."

Old gentle [bewildered at elaborate wedding]: "Are you the bridegroom?"

Young Man, "No, sir; I was eliminated in the semi-finals."

Helpmate

Mr. Weeb: "It's going to be one grand battle of wits, I tell you."
Mrs. Weeb: "How brave of you, dear, to go unarmed."

Dentist: "Which tooth do you want extracted?"
Pullman Porter: "Lower seven."

According to a doctor, singing warms the blood. We have heard some that has made ours positively boil.

Seasick passenger [on friends yacht]: "I say, what about going back? After you've seen one wave you've seen them all."

"Dear Lord," prayed the coed, "I don't ask anything for myself—just give mother a son-in-law."

--And Some Hatchet Chips

Call out the Pied Piper of Hamelin! And girls, keep your toes out of your lockers or you'll get them nipped.

The other afternoon a group of girls with Miss McMillan were seen on their hands and knees placing mice traps in every corner of the girls lockers.

"Why are you setting those mice traps?" Miss McMillan was asked.
"To catch flies, of course," she replied.

So the mystery is yet to be solved.

The changes for the new semester are here! Has anyone noticed the changes in some of the faces as the semester grades were given out and the periods announced?

Good hints for girls or boys: When you are too lazy to clean your finger nails, wear a glove.

Washington High historians may put down on the records that on a certain day of last week the greatest panic ever witnessed in the annals of this high school occurred. It happened when Alleen Steinhoff screamed at the sight of a dead mouse.

find in the pictorial first, his picture in the funny section; second, the high and mighty seniors, and other pictures; and third, to have everyone sign his scribbling signature wherever he thinks it most attractive.

The reader little realizes how much work is put into a year book. Doubtless the word pictorial is merely thought of as being a senior publication, and the seniors must do the work. This is not the case. Everyone can help.

Your camera is just anxious to be put to use on some humorous scene.

Wild Animal Zoo Found in Corner of W. U. H. S.

By Mildred Durham

Attention, Students!
Did you know that besides a museum Washington High has a "zoo?" It was rather a surprise to us, too, when the discovery was made. But we are very proud of it, and "you may lay to that!"

We have some very rare specimens also; some I know have never been heard of before. Among them are two prize-winning pups, an "Irish" setter, and a "Scotch" Air-dale, a secretary bird, which likes to perch on one's knee and chirps, "dearie, dearie", a bowl of rather soft-hearted jelly-fish, several "dears", an elephant, four giraffes, two boastful lions, a few snapping turtles, dangerous fallows; cranky grizzly bears, many crabs, dozens of timid mice, and lots of cute monkeys, who entertain several girls, seniors inclusive, with their antics every noon time. Have you ever heard them giggle? We mean the girls, of course!

Our animals are not ordinary either. Some are pink, green, blue, red, or orange, others are striped, and still others checkered.

Don't you get the point? Probably you are still looking in every corner of our dear old school building, and wondering where the "zoo" is kept!

Here's a hint:
During the noon hour just glance up on the stage where our students delight in dancing and notice, lying the stage, the funny little creatures who call themselves "boys!"
"Behold our ZOO!"

Famous Birthday is Chance for Talks

Abraham Lincoln's birthday will be here soon and doubtless he will be talked about in the different advisory rooms. There are several books in the library which will be of value to the students. These are several books written on Abraham Lincoln by several authors, namely, John T. Morse, Jr., and Carl S. Churz, Lord Charwood, and Wilbur F. Gordy.

"Abe Lincoln's Yarns and Stories by Colonel Alexander K. McClure is full of humorous episodes. Lincoln's Gettysburg speech and other papers are also found in our library.

Seniors Favor Fresh Color as Green Cover is Chosen

In two important pictorial staff meetings which have been recently held two important things were decided. Special features in a pictorial way will be found among the many things in the pictorial. This is a new idea which was thought of by the staff. The cover of the book will be green which is also a new idea. Students can now obtain their pictorial through their book deposit.

Bloody Criminal Seeks President at Fords Theatre

TRAGEDY CLIMAXES CAREER

America's Martyred President Was of Lowly Origin; Great Orator

He was seated with Mrs. Lincoln in the balcony of a quiet theatre, when a dark figure silently rose from behind. There was the sharp report of a pistol, a cloud of smoke, a leap from the balcony to the stage, and the traitor was gone.

When the smoke cleared, Abraham Lincoln, the emancipator of the slaves, was lying mortally wounded.

His long, weary administration had brought deep fatigue to his rugged frame. This evening he had gone to Ford's theatre to alleviate his mind from the heavy burdens and was sought there by a blood-thirsty criminal, John Wilkes Booth.

This talkman with kind and honest features had risen from obscure surroundings. His work was always plain, fair, honest—never a wrong to anybody.

In the Lincoln-Douglas Debate, "Abe the Giant Killer," as they called him, made it impossible for Northern and Southern Democrats to agree, and so won his votes for the presidency.

This lovely account of Abraham Lincoln's life has been dramatized by the famous playwright, John Drinkwater. The book is in our library and furnishes material for an interesting form of reading, particularly at this time of the year.

Change Makes Library Larger

A change in the teacher's sleeping hours as a result of the faculty party, also brought a change in the school library. As will be seen, the library is more roomy. This is due to the fact that one book case has been moved in the back.

Mrs. Wright reports that she didn't think it was such a job.

Fire, Fire, Fire! -- But it Was Only a False Alarm

"Hurry up! move your legs or I'll get burned."

Three sharp snappy bells rang, doors were opened widely, and long lines of students were seen marching outside.

There was a good deal of excitement. The fire drill benefitted especially the students who were in the midst of oral recitations. One poor boy brought his book along with him so as not to miss any time from study.

Anyone who would have passed by would have guessed there was something going on.

"Trident" Santa Cruz, Calif. Santa Cruz High has broken all records of strange club organization by the successful "Blonde Club." A very interesting subject dealing with various bleaches was discussed at the first meeting.

"The Flathead Arrow," Kalispell, Montana. There'll soon be new gym at the disposal of Kalispell High. It has a maple floor—40x60—and is convertible into a large auditorium. The ceiling is Acousto-Celotex. Shower rooms and dressing rooms are also included in this gym. Seating capacity is 400. The stage is 16x20. Heat is distributed by fan units.

Washington High will have their gym soon too, Kalispell.

"The Trident," Santa Cruz, California. Juniors of Santa Cruz High have received their class rings. The ring is gold and has a very beautiful shield of red stone on it. "S.C." is on the top of the stone. Underneath these letters are two words: "High School" in the shape of a crescent. The class numbers are on the sides of the shield, i.e., 19 and 31.

It won't be long now, will it, W. U. H. S. Juniors?

Whatcom High, Bellingham Wash. The Dramatic Club of Whatcom High is planning to continue the custom of presenting a play each semester to the Associated Students.

Our Dramatic Club has promised us a play too, Whatcom High.

"Awgwan" Modesto, California. Juniors of Modesto High are preparing a Junior-Senior banquet which will be held at Hotel Modesto, Jan., 21.

Similar preparation by our Junior Class is not to be overlooked by students of W. U. H. S.

"The Flathead Arrow" Kalispell, Mont. "The Mikado," a famous Gilbert and Sullivan opera, will be presented by the Kalispell High School Glee Club about the middle of January.

The W. U. H. Glee Club under the direction of Miss Sayles is planning to give an operetta early this spring.

"Awgwan" Modesto, Calif. Modesto High now has a night school which boasts of thirty-five different subjects taught. Opening hour is 7.30 P. M., and closing hour 9.

Aviation Members Have High Time at Oakland Airdrome

Commercial Group to Inspect Niles Tile Works and Box Factory

The Aviation club with their advisor journeyed to the Oakland Air Port January 22.

Mr. Weaver was engaged as the guide at the port through the courtesy of the superintendent of the United States Dept. of Commerce, Mr. Turner.

Mr. Weaver explained the future of aviation, the value of the different instruments, and the revolving lights, 8,000,000 candlepower.

The twenty-four club members visited all the hangars. They also inspected the ships for their good or bad points. Hangar 5 of the Boeing Dept. was visited. Here the prospective pilots started their laborious courses for their pilot licenses.

Mr. Weaver in his interesting way of showing the boys around particularly stressed the fact that safe flying should not be credited to pilots only to about 20 or 40 men who are connected with inspecting or repairing.

The paint shop, construction shop, and other places of repairing were also visited.

Mr. Matte reports that during their 90 minute excursion was a great deal of maneuvering was going on in the air.

On February 8, the Commercial club will visit the Tile Works and Box Factory in Niles.

Talks were given by the members on personal appearance, comparison of the humane machine to an automobile, letter writing, how to keep your desk, and other reports concerning business life.

The Dramatic club elected officers for the new semester. The following were elected:

President--Eugene Dusterberry
Secretary--Ed Wargin
Program Chairman--LaVon Molter.
The reading committee was appointed to choose a play for the Student Body.

Eades Carroll, as Facks, an English servant, acted very well as a butler with a foreign accent. Francis Anderson, as Susie, the maid, brought a great deal of amusement by her constant desire to go to Sioux City.

June Withorly, the bride, and George Coley, the bridegroom, could not have been any more like two love doves, while Dorothy La Plante and John Munger (just sweethearts) were no less impressive.

Aileen Stienhoff, as Vera Vernon, a show girl, displayed great talent, and Judith Gronley, Mrs. Pambrake, was well dressed to show her great wealth.

Elmo Grimmer, as burglar, was very crafty, and nearly out-witted a lawyer. The policemen showed themselves to be men of the law.

Between acts, while the audience was waiting in breathless anticipation for the curtain to rise, the strains of music which wafted from Mr. Kimber's ever-ready orchestra increased the excitement.

Several numbers were played, namely, Always, Jolly, Cavalleria Rusticana, Rosamunde, Hungarian Dance No. 5, Jocelyn, and Little Corporal.

The cast had their dress rehearsal Wednesday evening, starting immediately after school dismissal until 10:30. The cast were served dinner at the "school store."

We will soon have on our home grounds baseball games with other schools. Here are a few suggestions which may help.

Why not have a boy and a girl yell leader to help us in leading our yells? Have our leaders dressed all in white.

If we have a girl to help to lead, we might have better results, for the girls will feel that they have some responsibility.

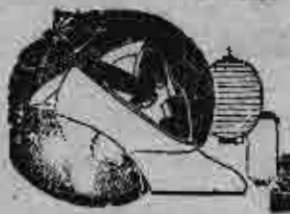

So let us get ready and practice up on our yells, so we will be ready to help our boys to win. Do not leave it to be done at the last minute, for that will not lead us on to victory. W. T.

Larry seems to be glad to be home again. When asked what he thought of the proposed gym, he replied, "Washington High needs a gym. Aside from football, I think basketball is the next best sport, and the coach is certainly lost without a gym."

"Brownie" will leave in March for spring training at West Palm Beach. His two friends will leave with him.

Footwear For Spring

Very modern in treatment are the new shoes, with unusual combinations of leathers and richer color tones.

Warming Up

The Boys are all playing baseball. A very fine bunch have reported out for practice.

Some very clever ball tossers are trying for the team. Little "Lolly" Amaral looks like a good prospect.

Captain Ruben Ferry has a new nick-name. It is "Wee Wee." Call him "Wee Wee" and watch the results.

Manuel Fontes looks like he is going to have a good season at the bat. He is soaking the old apple all over the lot.

Jack Cahill is breaking in a new first baseman's glove. We wonder if the great Mr. Patrick Cahill is going to be a first baseman.

Ed Maiffatti has applied for the job of bat boy this season. You will remember that he was the one-man backfield of the "B" football team.

The schedule for baseball season will be published soon. Next issue probably James Logan will have the list complete.

Captain Eugene Dusterberry is searching everywhere around the school to find some talent for his track team.

Baseball Low-down Given by Authority

Now that the football season has ended, and we do not compete in basketball, our attention is turned to baseball, and what kind of a team we will have this year. At the present there are about thirty boys out for baseball which should make competition very keen for positions on the team.

Due to the fact that it has been raining so much lately, very little practicing could be done, so that no team has been selected as yet.

Coach Regli will soon start to separate the ones that show some ability from the ones that are not so good. The coach says that there is no reason why our baseball team should not "go places and do things" this year.
